VOL. IX.

HARTFORD, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 18, 1897.

NO. 47.

DARKNESS AND DAYLIGHT, Or Lights and Shadows of New York.

In his new and superbly illustrated work a noble Christian woman tells the thrilling story of her personal experience in Gospel, temperance, mission, and rescue-work in a great city. No recent publication is now commanding so much attention nor has any other called forth such ringing words of "God-speed" from ministers and eminent women. It has been preached about from famous pulpits, read by tens of thousands of subscribers, and made the subject of many a clergyman's Sunday evening lecture. Its authorship is fourfold, its four authors being no less than:—Mrs. Helen Campbell, Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D., Col. Thomas W. Knox, and Inspector Thomas Byrnes, Chief of the New York Detective Bureau.

Mrs. Campbell, the principal writer, certainly was a woman commissioned of God, and "In His Name" spent many years as a city missionary literally "In Darkest New York." What a wonderful work she did. How devoted and blessed her labors were. It is a story never to be forgotten. This unique volume presents these thrilling experiences of Christian endeavor with the hundreds of pathetic and amusing scenes that were packed into them; it portrays life in a great city by day and by night "As Seen by a Woman"; it shows the power of the Gospel to redeem souls from the lowest depths; it gives striking testimonies of the redeemed; and from all these rich and varied experiences it draws living truths for head and heart that are worth to any reader ten times the price of the book. Mrs. Campbell's account of rescue-work is full of wonderfully touching incidents. Stranger stories are here told than romance ever dreamed of, every one of them drawn from real life by a woman's hand. In every chapter she weaves in anecdote after anecdote, incident after incident, story after story, and the reader's attention is held breathless to the end of the volume. "Strange but most suggestive is the fact," says Bishop Cox in warmly commending this volume, "that Christ is to be visited in these dens and dives; the are those whom He will hear in mind when He says: 'Ye visited me; or, when He says: 'Ye did it not to Me.'"

Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott's life-long interest in City Mission work, and his personal share in that work, pre-eminently fitted him to write for this book. In his introduction to it he says:—"My interest in these phases of city life dates from my college days. From that day to this—over a third of a century—I have continued the studies then begun, and the subject of this book has been one of the great subjects of my study—sometimes in literature, often in life."

No appeal from temperance advocates can do more to promote the cause of temperance than the thrilling scenes and incidents so well described; at least so says Mrs. Mary A. Livermore and Miss Frances E. Willard. One of the most absorbingly interesting portions of the book is that written by Inspector Byrnes given the ripe experience of thirty years of detective life. Many of the startling revelations he makes are taken from his private diary. They have never before been published.

This fascinating volume is indeed a wonderful tale of Christian love and faith, all alive with intense and striking reality. The best of it is that it is a pure and elevating book from beginning to end—a volume for the family circle. On this point the words of Rev. Dr. Twichell (who has a family of ten children) and Rev. Dr. Magoun, President Iowa College, are worth quoting here. Dr. Twichell writes:—"My wife says that she is going to set our young people on the book right off, for the good it will do them"; and President Magoun says:—"My family finds, where other books our shelves lack interest, this one always holds and rewards attention."

It contains 252 superb engravings, every one of them made from photographs taken from life, mostly by flash-light. Every face is a portrait, every scene a stern reality. In looking at these splendid illustrations the reader sees at a glance just how Gospel work is carried on by day and by night by rescue-bands; he is shown strange sights in out of the way places that are rarely or never seen by the casual visitor; he is taken into cheap lodging-houses and cellars; into the homes of the poor; into newsboys' lodging-houses; into the police and detective departments, etc.,—nothing seems to be omitted.

old and young, with every increasing pleasure and lasting profit.

The work is published by the old and well-known firm of A. D. Worthington & Co., Hartford, Conn., whose imprint is sufficient guarantee of the excellence of this first class volume. Royal Octavo, 740 pages. 252 fine plates, portraits, and text illustrations.

Luck Has Never Harmed to Any Person.

In replying to the query, "Does not luck sometimes play a goodly part in man's success?" Edward W. Bok, in the January Ladies' Home Journal, writes:

"Never. Henry Ward Beecher answered this question once for all when he said: 'No man prospers in this world by luck unless it be the luck of getting up early, working hard and maintaining honor and integrity.' What so often seems to many young men, on the surface, as being luck in a man's career, is nothing more than hard work done at some special time. 'The idea that luck is a factor in a man's success has ruined thousands, it has never helped a single person. A fortunate chance comes to a young man sometimes just at the right moment, and that some people call luck; but that chance was given because he had at some time demonstrated the fact that he was the right man for the chance."

"That is the only luck there is. Work hard, demonstrate your ability, and show to others that if an opportunity comes within your grasp you are able to use it."

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common water glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment of settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. TESLA CONFIDENT

Believes He Can Telegraph Without Wires.

Through Mountains, Oceans and Deserts.

Has Succeeded, He Says, in Solving the Problem of Disturbing Earth Currents.

The Realization of a Theory Long Entertained.

Mikola Tesla, the inventor, has in his little shop on East Houston st., a machine which he believes will revolutionize telegraphy.

"Five years ago," said Tesla, when seen in his laboratory yesterday, "I demonstrated the fact that wires were not needed for the transmission of the electric current from point to point, and since that time I have been constantly experimenting with methods for putting my theories into practical effect."

"I have centered my efforts in producing a disturbance in the electrical currents of the earth itself. And I have succeeded. 'A single electric signal can be sent around the earth, by known ordinary means, in one sixteenth of a second. By my instruments this can be done in one-forty-eighth of a second."

No wires are necessary to send telegraphic messages to any distance. The message is projected by producing a disturbance of the electric fluid of the earth, and is felt at all points of the earth, because the fluid is incompressible and transmits its impressions equally without the need of directing the course of such a message. Anybody in any part of the world possessing a receiver and the key to the code used can read the message. A person in the center of the plains of Africa or at the North Pole, in Australia or in San Francisco, can read the message projected from London or New York as easily as a person on the next block to the place of projection. It will be quite as easy to communicate with a ship in mid-ocean or a traveler at the North Pole.

"It is probably that a number of central stations will be established at great distances, for instance, the capital cities of countries and great centers of industry and commerce. From these stations the messages, private, public and news, will be projected by code to each other and transmitted to sub-stations and receiving offices all over the world."

"I am not, of course, prepared at present to make public any description of my paraphernalia, but I can say that I have mastered the secret, and it will not be very many months before telegraphic communication, say with a ship in mid-ocean, unconnected by wires of any kind with land, will be a matter of ease."

"No, by my method there can be no impediment to the transmission of a message. By all methods except mine, houses, hills and trees are impediments. These do not affect mine in the least."—[New York News.

Evil after effects never follow the use of Dr. Bell's Peppermint Chill Tonic. It is a pleasant liver laxative. It makes rich, red blood. It makes stout, sound bone. It makes flesh. It makes rosy cheeks. All of this cures chills so they stay cured. Dealers guarantee it. For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

The meanest man has at last been found. The Louisville Commercial says he lives in Owensboro, but that is untrue. His home is in Bird's Eye and every time he spends a cent he takes chloroform so that he will not feel the pain of parting with it. His half brother is the stingiest man in the world. He uses a wart on the back of his neck in order to save spending a cent for an ordinary bone collar button.—[Telephone.

ASICK WOMAN

Should Consult the Best Physician Possible.

If all the sick mothers, invalid daughters and diseased sisters in this broad land would write to Dr. Hartman when failing to find relief elsewhere, no pen could describe the benefit that would follow. There are so many women, especially married women, who drag themselves wearily around from year to year without any particular disease, and yet miserable beyond description. They ache and tremble and throb, growing more nervous, tired and deliberated every day. For this class of sufferers Pe-runa is the most perfect remedy in existence. It relieves, it soothes, it quiets, it strengthens, and no tired, overworked women in the land should be without Pe-runa in the house for a single day.

Those wishing a complete description of female diseases, their causes and cures, should send their address to The Pe-runa Drug Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio, for a free copy of "Facts and Faces," a book showing what Dr. Hartman's free treatment has done for a multitude of invalid women.

A BETTER FATE

Than that of Enoch Arden Had Wm. Easley.

A strange and extremely romantic story comes from Todd county:

Mr. Easley, a prosperous farmer, living near Elkton after a separation of forty-eight years was last week reunited to his wife who he found at Laporte, Ind.

Easley left his wife, a bride of 15 months, and a babe in the cradle, to seek a fortune for his family. He sold his property, and with one thousand dollars started overland for the Pacific coast to prospect in the mines. He took up a claim, and letters to his wife told of promised success. He was gone a year when his letters stopped. The wife did not despair, but months lapsed into years, and still Easley was not heard from. Mrs. Easley after ten years of waiting concluded that her husband was dead, and five years later she again married and moved to Indiana. Her second husband died in 1896, leaving the widow in indigent circumstances. Easley having learned that his wife, whom he believed dead, was living, the sequel was that he found in Mrs. Henry Bowes the bride of his youth. Easley says he received advices in California that his wife was dead. He went from California to Todd county, Ky., where he is the owner of a large farm, and where the aged couple will spend their declining years.—[Ex.

Cancer Of the Breast.

Mr. A. H. Crausby, of 158 Kerr St., Memphis, Tenn., says that his wife paid no attention to a small lump which appeared in her breast, but it soon developed into a cancer of the worst type. The best physician, it continued to spread and grow rapidly, eating two holes in her breast. The doctors soon pronounced her incurable. A celebrated New York specialist then treated her, but she continued to grow worse and when informed that both her aunt and grandmother had died from cancer he gave her the case up as hopeless.

Someone then recommended S.S.S., and though little hope remained, she began to feel an improvement was noticed. The cancer commenced to heal and when she had taken several bottles it disappeared entirely, and although several years have elapsed, not a sign of the disease has ever returned.

Surplus and No Surplus.
There is a surplus in the Treasury which, though it was placed there by the sale of bonds of the United States to help out the deficiency caused by the failure of Democratic revenue legislation to provide the necessary revenues, still the surplus is there. This makes the question of necessary national revenue less important for the moment in comparison with the question of promptly excluding foreign imports in the interests of Protection. There is a surplus in the Treasury, but there is no surplus in the pockets of the American working-men who want employment.
Such conditions must speak with trumpet tongues in the ears of United States Senators, and should urge the passage of the Tariff bill at the earliest possible day. There should be no delay for fine quibbling over the amount of revenue the bill will produce. Fix up the rates on Protective lines and send the measure upon its mission of Protection to American industries and workingmen.
No member of the United States Senate should be left in doubt of the anxiety among the people for the speedy passage, in some reasonable form, of the Dingley bill. Members of the House are urging the matter, and the people throughout the country are making their voices heard in the Senate.—Economist.

Depression of Spirits

so common in summer-time, accompanied by loss of energy, lack of thought-power, means a deficient supply of nourishment. The vital force is lost. It isn't a question of muscle and sinew, but of resistance and endurance. At any age, but especially in youth, it involves the risk of lung disease. Loss of flesh and a cough are threatening signs.

Scott's Emulsion

Mrs. Fannie Hardwick Newman Dead.

News reached Hartford Wednesday evening that Mrs. Fannie Hardwick Newman was dead, and a gloom was spread over our little city, for she was universally popular here where she was born and lived until she married.

Mrs. Newman was born in Hartford October 7, 1870, and was married to Mr. Geo. R. Newman October 7, 1889, who was then living at Central City; died Wednesday at the residence of Mr. E. W. Taylor, of Greenville, where she was visiting, and the remains were entered in Oakwood Cemetery near here yesterday morning after funeral services at the residence of her brother, Mr. W. G. Hardwick, conducted by Rev. J. S. McDaniel.

She was a consistent member of the Methodist Church and had lived an upright christian life. She leaves a husband and a host of friends and relatives to mourn her loss.

A SUICIDE.

An Ohio County Girl Kills Herself With Morphine at Fort Worth, Tex.

News of the suicide of an Ohio county girl at Fort Worth, Tex., reached the city through private channels. The name of the young lady was Miss Jennie Sharer, and she was born and reared near Cromwell.

Miss Sharer received a good common school education, but being bright and ambitious she pushed her way through college by her own exertions, and financially took a business course at Bowling Green. She then went to Arkansas where she taught school, and subsequently went to Texas, where she again entered the school room. She was offered the situation for the second term, but declined the place. She tried to re-assure her but she could not be argued into accepting. The brother of one of the school board was sheriff of the county and knowing her capacity he gave her a place in his office. She proved a very valuable acquisition, and her salary was raised at once.

Two or three months later she announced that she could not stay in the office any longer, being satisfied that she was not competent to perform the duties required of her. The sheriff offered her another raise in her salary but she could not be prevailed on to stay, and secured employment in the family of a Mr. Smith, a former Kentuckian, in Fort Worth. She was an admirable house keeper and rapidly established a place in the affections of the family. Last Friday the family went away from home and left her alone. Three hours later Mr. Smith went home and found the house locked up. When he went in he found her lying on the floor dead with a bottle of morphine by her side. Along with it was a note saying that her life was a failure and recounting the attempts that she had made to earn a living. She attributed her lack of success to incapacity and want of education, a state of affairs exactly the reverse of the truth. Among her effects was letter from a young man named J. R. Davis at Mena, Ark., where she had formerly taught. It was evident that they were engaged to be married, and also that it was her own fault that the ceremony had not been performed, and that she accused herself of unworthiness, which idea was deprecated by her sweetheart.

From all that can be gathered it is evident that she was afflicted with a morbid sensibility that finally wrecked her mind and led her to take her life. Her people are among the best citizens of Ohio and Butler counties, and the news of her death was a great shock to them. A strange thing about it is that her home letters, which were very frequent, were extremely cheerful, her situation and prospects being spoken of in the most satisfactory terms.—Inquirer.

Jno. Willis left home about two weeks ago and has not been heard of since. He had been working for Reqr. Vaughn and left without telling anyone where he was going.

WHERE IS IT?

Geo. Miles, of Davidson, Hunting for Some Lost Money.

Mr. George Miles, of Davidson station, Ohio county, is in the city, on the hunt of $3,500, which his father is known to have had before he died.

Evan A. Miles was a hard working farmer, who lived near Fordsville, as honest as men are ever made, and one of the most successful tobacco raisers in the country where he lived. He had a large family, but was very economical, and it was always thought that he made more money than he spent, though no one ever knew that he had any great amount of ready cash by him. The only hint he ever gave of it was three or four years ago, when he took a trip to Shelby county. On starting from home he took his daughter aside and told her that if anything should happen so that he did not get back he had enough money in bank to bury him and give the children $500 apiece. He came home and nothing was ever said about it.

When he died he gave directions that his body should be buried in a particular spot under an apple tree in his orchard. The exact spot was not deemed suitable and the grave was dug a few feet away.

Some time afterward the daughter related to, told the other members of the family what her father had said to her and an examination of his papers was made. A particular pocket-book in which he kept his most important papers was missing and no trace of it has ever been found. Then his insistent directions as to the location of his grave were called to mind and it was thought possible that he had buried the money there. A search was accordingly made, but it was not found.

A further quest of his papers was made and the result was the same as above, except that of a vague memorandum was found leading to the inference that the money was in a bank in Owensboro. Mr. Miles came here and inquired of all the banks, and at all but one he was told that no such account was in existence. Here he was told to look for the papers, and if they came up all right the money would be paid. He went back and looked all over the place for several days and returned with the information that no papers could be found.

He believes that the money is in the bank and this afternoon he employed an attorney to investigate the matter and if possible to ascertain the whereabouts of the missing treasure.

This is the story as related by Mr. Miles, who is a very trustworthy young man. He is the agent of the I. C. railroad at Davidson, and has a store there.—Inquirer.

What is meant for a subscriber to do than to take his county paper for one year and then refuse to take it out of the office and have the postmaster to notify the editor that he "don't want it any longer." Does it take a subscriber a whole year to determine whether he wants a paper or not? No, don't do that way. If you want to quit taking a paper, pay for what you have got and then politely request the business manager to stop your paper.—[Glasgow Republican.]
